

“C” Club Endorses Harris County Prop A and Historic Investment in Flood Control

The “C” Club is proud to stand with County Judge Ed Emmett and Harris County’s Commissioners Court and endorse Prop A.

Passing Prop A is the critical first step to give Harris County the necessary resources to build new infrastructure for drainage and water detention basins while speeding up construction and completion of on-going flood control projects across the county. Passing Prop A will also give Harris County the ability to meet and increase federal funding matches for critical flood control projects.

“We commend the open and transparent process undertaken by Judge Emmett, the County Commissioners, and the Harris County Flood Control District to hold public meetings in every watershed. Now, voters must do their part to ensure Harris County has the resources to make these historic investments to protect our lives and property from future flooding disasters by voting for Prop A,” said Christopher Zook, “C” Club President.

Important Dates:

Early Voting

August 8 – August 21

Election Day

August 25th

The “C” Club urges you to cast your ballot FOR Prop A and give Harris County the tools it needs to strengthen our flood prevention systems and become more resilient.

An endorsement from the “C” Club requires at least 75 percent members support the ballot proposition. To eliminate any conflicts of interest, the “C” Club prohibits and does not accept financial contributions of any kind when considering endorsements.
